

Oremus

How very weary God must be to watch from high above

The antics of His progeny their disavowal of love

The very love He pledged

His love that flows to us

We scorn it, then we hedge our bets and sing an oremus